

The right work/life balance of liability insurance for your home-based business

As a home-based business, you need to make sure you have the correct level of insurance to protect your livelihood. Most home and contents insurances are primarily designed to cover for domestic arrangements. As a result, your home-based business activities may compromise the effectiveness of your existing coverage.

No matter what kind of business you operate, you probably need more than just property insurance. Taking out the right public and products liability and professional indemnity covers will help protect your business by minimising exposure to risk.

- Public liability insurance will compensate your business if you are found liable for death, injury, loss or damage of property as a result of your home business operation at both your premises and Australia wide.
- Product liability insurance covers your business in the event of injury, death or damage to another person due to the failure of your products or services.
- Professional indemnity insurance protects you from legal costs as a result of a negligent act, error or omission from your professional business.
