IMPORTANT NOTICES

Non-Renewable Contract

Any insurance policy issued will expire after 12 months. If you require the policy to be renewed please provide us with all necessary information in good time.

Your Duty of Disclosure

You have a duty to disclose to us, before the contract of insurance is entered into, every matter that is known being a matter that:

- ↳ you know to be a matter relevant to the decision of the insurer whether to accept the risk.
- ↳ a reasonable person in the circumstances could be expected to know to be a matter so relevant.

This duty of disclosure also applies to any renewal, extension, variation or reinstatement of the Policy.

The insurer is entitled, at their sole option, to refuse to cover the additional exposure or charge a reasonable additional cost. If the nature of the change entails a substantially different risk, whether in type or degree, from that previously envisaged risk, the insurer may avoid the contract.

If the person or entity who became the Insured under the policy upon the contract being entered into:

- ↳ failed to comply with the duty of disclosure or
- ↳ made a misrepresentation to the insurer before the contract was entered into then
 - if the failure was fraudulent or the misrepresentation was made fraudulently, the insurer may avoid the contract;
 - if the insurers are not entitled to avoid the contract or, being entitled to avoid the contract have not done so, the liability of the insurers in respect of a claim is reduced to the amount that would place the insurers in a position in which the insurers would have been if the failure had not occurred or the misrepresentation had not been made.

The insured shall throughout the period of insurance give notice as soon as reasonably practicable of any material change in any fact, activity or circumstances as described in the proposal. In the event of insurers being at any time entitled to void the Policy by reason of the Insured failing to give notice in accordance with this policy conditions, the insurer may at their election, instead of voiding the Policy give notice in writing to the insured that there shall be excluded from the indemnity any claim which has arisen or may arise which is related to such facts, activities or circumstances.
